

Step 6 Answering questions and discussing a text

- If the text is still difficult for you, answer all the questions given in this book, or work with a partner and ask and answer each other questions about the text.
- Then discuss the text in a group or in class. Think about this: What could the text be trying to tell the reader? Do you agree with the way the protagonist is acting? Do you agree with the author? Always give reasons for your answers.

There are many more points for discussion in this book.
