Natalie Harper Lee

April 2009. It was a momentous day in America. A century-old dream had finally come true. The first African-American woman to be elected to Congress, she was sworn in as a member of the House of Representatives. She had been instrumental in getting the bill passed, and she was the first woman to be elected to Congress since 1923.

Native Speaker

The singer was all about money. He drew much energy and pride from his ability to make it almost at will. He was some kind of human genius. He had no real cleverness or secrets for good business, he simply refused to fail, leaving absolutely nothing to chance or some sort of "of course". Of course, his native Korean language had said that he could earn $30 million a year. His wife and baby and just a few words of English knowing what every native loves to hear. He was the most successful Korean story writing about the hard-working, self-sufficient, resourceful.
